APPLICATION FOR STATEMENT OF CHARGES (CONTINUED) Page 2 of 4

On February 2, 2014, the Montgomery County Police Major Crimes Division received information that the victim Hyunsu O'Callaghan was at Children's National Medical Center unresponsive with suspicious injuries. Detective Carin and Detective Fumagalli were assigned to handle the follow up investigation. Detectives interviewed Brian O'Callaghan, the victim's adoptive father. During the interview he stated the following:

<sup>DOB</sup> [REDACTED]
The victim Hyunsu O'Callaghan was adopted from Korea and he has been in the United States since October 2013. Hyunsu has bonded with his wife [REDACTED] and his parents but he has not bonded with him. Since October [REDACTED] has been the primary care taker but in January 2014, Brian began to use Family Medical Leave to take care of Hyunsu and [REDACTED] went back to work.

On January 31, 2014, [REDACTED] went out of town and Brian was the primary care taker for Hyunsu. Earlier that evening Brian assisted Hyunsu with a shower and he explained Hyunsu does not like to take showers because he does not like the water hitting him. During the shower Hyunsu was upset and crying. After the shower had ended Hyunsu slipped in the bathtub falling backwards. As he fell he hit his shoulder. Brian consoled him and he went to bed without incident.

On February 1, 2014, Brian woke up and he took Hyunsu and his biological son [REDACTED] out for breakfast. When they returned home Hyunsu began to fall asleep. A short time later Brian drove Hyunsu and [REDACTED] to the Germantown Swim Center. Hyunsu played in the park while [REDACTED] was at a diving class. After playing in the park, Brian drove Hyunsu to a local fast food restaurant to get lunch and they returned to the swim center to pick up [REDACTED]. Brian then drove back to the family home located at [REDACTED] Conrad Court Damascus, Montgomery County, Maryland. Prior to putting Hyunsu down for a nap Brian allowed him to eat yogurt.

At approximately 1400 hours, Brian put Hyunsu down for a nap.

At approximately 1600 hours, Brian went to check on Hyunsu and when he got to his room he observed a pinkish fluid/stain on the bedding and mucus coming from his nose. Brian changed the sheets and cleaned Hyunsu's nose and it should be noted Hyunsu did not wake up.

At approximately 1700 hours, Brian went to check on Hyunsu again. Hyunsu was unresponsive and he observed a large amount of mucus coming from his nose. Brian picked Hyunsu up and he began to projectile vomit and he remained unresponsive. Brian removed Hyunsu's clothing and he placed him inside the bathtub. Hyunsu remained unresponsive and Brian turned on the water to wash him off. After Brian was finished he picked up Hyunsu and he dressed him. Brian received a text message from his wife [REDACTED] and he advised her of the situation. She advised him to go to the emergency room or call an ambulance. Brian drove Hyunsu to the Germantown Emergency Room. When he arrived Hyunsu was still unresponsive and in medical distress.

Medical personnel at the satellite emergency room attempted to stabilize Hyunsu and he was prepared for transport to Children's National Medical Center.

Doctors at Children's National Medical Center determined Hyunsu was in Critical Condition and there was concern he could be "brain dead". The doctors conducted medical test and discovered Hyunsu had bleeding in the brain and hemorrhaging in the eyes. These types of injuries are consistent with acute head trauma and Brian O'Callaghan could not provide an explanation that would cause this type of medical distress to Hyunsu. Brian O'Callaghan did acknowledge he had complete care and custody for Hyunsu from 1900 hours on January 31, 2014 through February 1, 2014 when he presented Hyunsu to medical personnel.

On February 3, 2014, Detectives Carin and Fumagalli responded to the Children's National Medical Center and were met by the doctors that were treating Hyunsu. The detectives were advised the following:

Hyunsu was at Children's National Medical Center and he is in the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit. Currently he is unresponsive and tests are being conducted to determine his neurological state. The Doctors examined Hyunsu and it was noted he had multiple injuries to include trauma to the brain and hemorrhaging in eyes. These findings support the fact that the victim had recent episode(s) where he was beaten. It should also be noted this type of injury would cause the victim to decompensate at a rapid rate indicating the trauma was acute.

The victim was pronounced deceased on February 3, 2014.

On February 6, 2014, Dr. Mourtzino performed an autopsy on Hyunsu O'Calaghan. Dr. Mourtzino noted Hyunsu's body had multiple contusions consistent with impact trauma. There was also evidence of impact trauma on Hyunsu's scrotum.

An examination of Hyunsu's head revealed he had a skull fracture with bleeding on the front and back of the brain with multiple impacts to the head. The hemorrhage was subcutaneous which is a sign of trauma to the head. The hemorrhaging to the brain caused fluid from the brain to enter the sinus cavity and the spine.

Dr. Mourtzino ruled the Cause and Manner of Death: Homicide by Multiple Blunt Impact Injuries.

Based on the above facts, your affiant request an arrest warrant be issued for Brian Patrick O'Callaghan for the following charges:

- 1. Murder First Degree
- 2. Child Abuse Resulting in Death.
